BETHESDA HEALTH CARE WELCOMES NEW BOARD MEMBER

Bethesda Health Care, a Claremont based private hospital, has recently welcomed corporate advisor Mr Tri Suseno as the newest member of their board.

Tri comes with extensive experience in business strategy, mergers and acquisitions, investments, corporate finance and organisational design, and is the current Managing Director of the Akamai Management Group. He has served clients in Australia and Asia in various industries, including manufacturing, resources, fast moving consumer goods, real estate, technology and investment funds.

Tri recently developed strategic options for the defense of a global corporation with a market capitalisation exceeding $50 billion. He has advised on the restructure and recapitalisation of a mid-tier ASX listed mining company, the buyout of a $300m engineering firm, and acted as originator, negotiator and execution coordinator in the acquisition of three multi-million dollar enterprises. Tri is a past winner of the 2012 WA Business News Top 40 under 40 award.

Tri has been appointed Chair of the Bethesda Health Care board's Audit, Risk and Compliance Committee. He joins fellow board members Dominic Burke, Ric Leaver, Yasmin Naglazas, and Dr Alister Turner, led by Chairman Dr Neale Fong.

Last month Bethesda Health Care commenced a $10 million redevelopment program to provide two additional operating theatres, and a number of upgrades to the current hospital facilities and site.

Bethesda Health Care is an independent 88-bed award-winning hospital in Claremont who has been providing care and service to the Western Australian community for more than 70 years.
