GP Education Program Launched at Bethesda Hospital

Building on from their successful General Practitioner (GP) education program which has run for the past two years, Bethesda Hospital has just launched its 2014 program with the appointment of a dedicated GP Liaison to oversee the program - Dr Nick Warburton from Rokeby GP Clinic.

The 2014 program promises to equip GP's with a thorough understanding of specialties that are offered at Bethesda Hospital as well as providing them with their required CPD (Continuing Professional Development) points from the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners.

Topics for 2014 include:

- General Orthopaedics
- Palliative Care
- Breast Care
- Fertility
- Urology
- Shoulder Orthopaedics.

Coastal Orthopaedics will be conducting the first GP education event at the hospital on Thursday 27 February 2014 from 6:30pm. Orthopaedic Surgeons Mr Mark Hurworth and Toby Leys will be presenting the topic 'Advances in Orthopaedics'.

CEO of Bethesda Hospital Ms Yasmin Naglazas said that 'our GP education program continues to expand and grow, along with our relationships with local doctors and our accredited surgeons. The appointment of Dr Warburton to oversee this program will strengthen these relationships'.

Bethesda Hospital is an independent 88-bed award-winning hospital in Claremont who has been providing outstanding surgical and palliative care and service to the Western Australian community for 70 years.
